

SILO NECESSARY ADJUNCT TO FARM

CORN SILAGE IS CONSIDERED THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FEED FOR COWS

A high yield of corn depends pretty largely upon the stand. A good stand depends upon the germinating power of the seed for the most part. The germinating power of the seed is determined by testing out the seed. Any one can do it who has any gumption. There is no need of planting dead seed corn.

In this land that is destined to become a great dairy land no better use can be made of the corn crop than by making silage of it. A good stand of corn for silage purposes is as necessary as for growing large crops of ear corn. Corn can be grown in Oneida county. When a good stand of corn is secured it will produce somewhere from twelve to fifteen tons of silage to the acre. Corn silage costs around $1.50 a ton to produce it. No other roughage compares with corn silage in low cost of production or in feeding benefit. It is preeminently the feed of the dairy cow. Henry says, "It keeps the bowels normal, the body tissues sappy, the skin pliant, and the coat glossy, all of which mark the animal as in condition to make the most of its feed." Cows fed corn silage give more milk and when deprived of silage drop down in milk flow.

Eight tons of corn silage will occupy the space occupied by one ton of hay. Corn silage makes a splendid feed to give cows in the summer when dry weather is on. If a farmer had a silo half full of corn silage at the beginning of summer, he would not need to worry about short pasture. Corn silage will keep. It is only necessary to feed off a little each day after the silo is opened.

The silo being such a necessary adjunct to the farm, why not build one this summer? It will pay a large part of the cost of making it the first year. It will repay interest on its cost many times in one year.

The concrete silo is the silo to build. Make it solid concrete with walls six inches thick and well reinforced. A silo of solid concrete twenty-five feet tall and twelve feet in diameter will cost about $150, with out the forms.

If five farmers will build silos this summer and build them of concrete, the University of Wisconsin will furnish the forms and will send a specialist to the county to start the first silo and to tell the five men how to put up the silos. This will reduce the cost of the forms $15.

It would seem that out of 500 farmers in Oneida county there should be five farmers who could and would build concrete silos this summer. This is a good opportunity to get the work done under competent directions.

Silage is good for young stock or beef cattle. It is a big loss to allow cattle to run down during the winter. They need not do so if a silo is on the place. Silage can be fed to horses that are not working hard and to sheep, hogs and so on. It makes about the least expensive maintenance ration there is.

If the farmers are interested in this silo matter, let them talk the matter over with the County Representative.

A WORD TO THE WISE

One of the city license committee is a stockholder in the Rhinelander Brewery. We fully believe Mayor Braeger was not aware of this fact when he made this appointment. We are more than surprised that this man would act as a member of this committee under such circumstances. If brewerymen are to fill the positions on the license committee all breweries should have an equal share but this position does not seem the right one. If this man does not get off this committee we shall publish his name with further comment.

SEVEN NEW WAREHOUSES PRODUCE & COMMISSION COMPANY TO BUILD EXTENSIVELY

Seven new potato warehouses will be built this year by the Rhinelander Produce & Commission company. These warehouses will be located in Three Lakes, North Crandon, Crandon, Menocqua, Tony, Chili and Columbia.

On account of embarking in the potato business so extensively the company will gradually work out of the other lines which it now deals in.

Manager R. F. Tompkins states that the company will confine its efforts entirely to the handling of potatoes, and other farm produce such as apples, melons, onions, cabbage, grains and hay. In fact the firm will deal in everything that can be taken care of in carload lots.

It is the object of the concern to discontinue the other lines as soon as possible so as to be cleaned up on these goods when the potato season begins. No more fruit will be handled.

In preparation for the new business several improvements will be made about the company's big cold storage house in this city.

HAZELHURST WILL HAVE BIG RESORT

CHICAGO MEN WILL ERECT $50,000 SUMMER HOTEL ON ONEIDA COUNTY LAKE

That plans are being formulated for the erection of a large summer resort on the shores of one of the beautiful lakes near Hazelhurst is news which comes to Rhinelander this week. Chicago men of wealth are said to be back of the project and the resort contemplated will represent an expenditure of approximately $50,000.

Frank Bryant, who was at Hazelhurst a few days ago, met two representatives of the parties who are at the head of the movement and from them learned considerable regarding their intentions.

According to Mr. Bryant the resort will be built on one of the large lakes in the vicinity of Hazelhurst and will consist of a main hotel structure and about fifteen cottages. The hotel will be built in old mission style of wood and stone and will be modern in every respect. This building alone will cost in the neighborhood of $35,000. All of the cottages will be large and comfortable with accommodations for several people.

The grounds about the resort will be improved with cement walks, drives, lawns and shrubbery. It is the idea of the promoters to make this resort one of the finest in northern Wisconsin.

Mr. Bryant asserts that the grounds for the buildings were staked out two weeks ago and that work on the undertaking will begin about the first of May. It is not believed that the resort will be completed until the end of the coming season.

ARE MARRIED HERE

Joined in wedlock—The marriage of Miss Gustie Schwartz of Hayton, Wis., and Conrad Christoperson, a local farmer, occurred today (Wednesday) at Rhinelander. Sievert Christoperson was in attendance. The groom recently purchased the Springer farm from R. C. Wasserberger, and he is a young man of much ability. The people of the town extend a hearty welcome to Mr. Christoperson and bride.—Menocqua Times.

MORE ROOM FOR STOCK

By removing the petition in the rear of his store Mr. Carlson, the furniture dealer on Stevens Street now has more room for the display of his stock. Since starting in business in this city Mr. Carlson has been receiving his share of patronage and has nothing but good words for Rhinelander. His furniture stock is large and up-to-date, and his prices are reasonable.

IS JUSTIFIED IN KILLING PRUESS

ASHLAND JURY ACQUITS ALVIN DA- VIS, A FORMER RESIDENT, OF MURDER

On the ground that a man is justified in killing a man who insults his wife, the jury in the case of Alvin Davis, charged with the murder of Thomas Prueess, a woodsman, returned a verdict of acquittal at Ashland Saturday night.

Davis formerly resided in this city and worked a good portion of last year here at the carpenter trade. His wife was employed at one of the local hotels.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis arrived at Ashland on an evening train last December. It was their first visit to that city. Davis left his wife standing outside a hotel while he went in side to inquire for a room.

Prueess, who was in an intoxicated condition, stumbled out of a nearby saloon and approaching the woman grossly insulted her. This was the testimony of bystanders. Davis came out of the hotel and learning of Prueess' action, flew at the man like a wild animal, knocked him down twice and killed him with his bare hands.

Since last December Davis has been held in an Ashland jail without bail.

The charge against the man was second degree murder.

Before coming to Rhinelander Davis was employed at railroad work at Niles, Mich. He was also located at West Allis and Tomahawk.

The two principal witnesses in the case were H. D. Zazada, a hotel clerk, and Dan Monroe, a woodsman. Zazada testified that he saw Davis strike Prueess several times, walk a few steps and then return and strike the man again with such force as to knock him to the cement walk, the force of the fall or the blow making him unconscious.

Monroe declared that he saw Davis start hitting Prueess and that he struck him a number of times.

BOARDS OF REVIEW TO HEAR COMPLAINTS IN JULY

Boards of review will be appointed by the state tax commission to meet in every county seat in the state on the first Monday in July to give people opportunity to file income tax complaints and to transact such other business as may properly come before such a body. The salaries of the members of the boards of review will be $10 per day.

Many people are filing their income tax returns with protests attached, because they desire to protest themselves in the event the threatened litigation against the law is successful in declaring it defective.

LINCOLN COUNTY MAY ALSO TEACH AGRICULTURE STUDY

E. L. Luther, county representative, was at Tomahawk Thursday and Friday and Saturday, assisting at a farmers' institute. Following is what the Tomahawk Leader said of him:

The institute was opened yesterday morning with a talk on "The Business Side of Farming" by E. L. Luther, county representative of Oneida county. Mr. Luther's presence was especially desirable at this time because of a growing interest here in the plan by which Oneida county has obtained a resident farm expert to counsel with and assist its farmers. Mr. Luther is stationed at Rhinelander, his assignment covering the entire year.

RHINELANDER MAY GET FLOUR MILL

HOUGHTON, MICH., MILLER PRO- POSES TO LOCATE NEW INDUS- TRY IN THIS CITY

It is now almost safe to state that within a short time there will be added to the industrial interests of Rhinelander a roller and feed mill with a daily capacity of seventy-five barrels. Max R. Errgang, of Houghton, Mich., a prominent miller of the upper peninsula, was in Rhinelander this week consulting the farmers and business men in reference to the proposition.

Mr. Errgang, who was induced to come here through the efforts of A. F. Schleisman, proposes to move his flour mill now located at Houghton to this city provided he is given the necessary support from the farmers.

He suggests that fifty farmers of the county subscribe to stock in the enterprise at $100 per share, thus guaranteeing him $5000. Not more than one share to any one man. It is not to be an organized company but will be placed in the hands of a trustee.

Mr. Errgang is impressed with its desirability that an effort may be made to take advantage of the opportunity in Lincoln county.

The annual promenade given by the Jesters of the Rhinelander High school at the Armory Friday night was one of the most enjoyable and largely attended proms ever held in the city. About one hundred and thirty couples were present, including many young people from outside of the city.

Elton before has the Armory presented such a pretty and attractive appearance. The decorations were neatly arranged and showed much work and care on the part of the arrangement committee. The ceilings and windows were interlaced with green and white ribbons, and class colors, and High school and college pennants were greatly in evidence.

The Junior motto, "We Will," and the Senior motto, "Beyond the Alps Lies Italy," were prominently displayed. Comfortable cozy corners were conveniently placed about the hall. Punch was served during the evening.

Dancing commenced at 9 o'clock and continued until long after the midnight hour. The Military orchestra which furnished the inspiration present at the meeting, and he de-was at its best and rendered all of the latest music. During each selection the floor was filled with dancers in this city and are ready to give the promoters all the aid possible.

The need of a flour and feed mill party was a source of satisfaction to the promoters all the aid possible. The need of having a flour and feed mill has long been felt in this city and is understood, is the most desirable of several in view and meets with Mr. Errgang's approval.

J. J. Remo has interviewed a number of farmers of the county, not present at the meeting, and he declares that they are pleased with the prospects of having a flour mill in the city and are ready to give the promoters all the aid possible.

The need of a flour and feed mill vicinity and now that the opportunity to obtain such an industry has come it is not proposed to let the chance go by.

A STRONG ATTRACTION

At the Grand Opera House last night the "ilon and the Mouse" proved one of the strongest theatrical productions ever witnessed by a Rhinelander audience. The company was a well balanced one and far above the average usually seen here.

The play carries with it a lasting lesson in the power of money and politics.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Slewright returned to the city Saturday from an extended visit at her home at Platteville. Mr. Slewright was also at a Battle Creek, Mich., sanitarium and his health has improved under the treatment which he received there.

Mrs. Nels Hanson was surprised Saturday evening by a number of friends in honor of her birthday. Mrs. Hanson was presented with many presents and all wished her happy returns of the day.

Mr. Wigderson was a good business man and citizen and his death has caused regret among a retinue of friends and acquaintances. Sympathy is extended to the family.

The remains were taken to Oshkosh for interment Wednesday morning.

The quick and easy manner in which Smith handled his opponent showed plainly that Dunn was no match for him.

Creamerymen—Because they are experts in the handling of cream and know by long experience that the De Laval skims cleanest and wears longest. That is why 98% of the world's creameries use the De Laval exclusively.

Experienced Dairymen—The De Laval is the universal favorite among big dairymen. They know that no other separator will give them such satisfactory service.

Old De Laval Users—Wherever a man who has used an old model De Laval decides to purchase a later style machine he invariably buys another De Laval.

Men Who Investigate—If anyone takes the time to investigate the merits of the various cream separators, either by finding out from other users what kind of service their machines have given or by testing other machines cut against the De Laval, the chances are a hundred to one that his choice will be the De Laval.

J. P. Stoddard of Harshaw Likes City As Place to Trade

J. P. Stoddard who has recently bought two eighties on Sec. 8, 37-7, friends here who wish them happy near Harshaw, drove in here Tuesday with a companion, on a shopping trip, and were guests of C. P. Crosby. They came by way of Woodstock and compute the distance at about 25 miles. Were the new Cassian road completed they would be about 12 miles from here.

They like this city as a point to get supplies at, as the merchants keep what they want here, but deplore the length of time it takes to get here.

A large number of new settlers are clearing land, building homes and proposing to put in crops in the vicinity of Mr. Stoddard, and there will be a demand for a new school house before many months, as land buyers are passing in there every day.

PLEASANT FAREWELL PARTY
Ed. Maloney and family have moved from the town of Pelican to this city where they will hereafter reside.

About one hundred and fifty friends of Mr. and Mrs. Maloney assembled at the farm last Wednesday night and tendered them a farewell party. Dancing by the music of Brusso's orchestra was in order until the midnight hour when supper was served. As a closing feature of the occasion Mr. Maloney and Herman Wolk gave an amusing step which they called the "bear dance". This caused the entire company to scream with laughter and everyone went home happy, declaring that they had never enjoyed a better time.

JOHNSON-HAMLIN NUPTIALS

Miss Myrtle Johnson of Woodboro and George Hamlin of this city were united in marriage, April 17. The young couple will make Rhinelander their home, the groom holding a position with the Wisconsin Veneer Company. Both have a number of other cities.

Ashland—

Last week several hundred men began work on the biggest drive of recent years on the Odashab reservation. About 75,000,000 feet of logs are to be driven down Bad river this summer and the river will be filled with logs during the entire season.

The present drive is made on natural water conditions, following the recent rains. Later on, the Potato river dam will be utilized in flooding the Bad river. Some of the logs have come down the river from as far as twenty miles.

Superior—

"Will it be a shave or a hair cut, and what music will you have while we are doing it?" This question will probably soon become the usual thing at the Commercial Barber Shop, Paul Domsch, proprietor. Mr. Domsch is widely known for his novel ideas but his latest is by far the most startling innovation he has yet attempted. The concerts will be given on Saturday nights from 7 to 10 o'clock. The first proved such a success that the concerts have become a permanent feature.

Washburn—

A meeting of considerable importance is to be held here May 13, 14 and 15, at which time the convention of the Superior district of the Congregational church will convene and fourteen charges will be in attendance, and it is expected that fifty delegates will be here. Among them will be some of the most prominent and able men in the northern part of the state.

Merrill—

The National Bank of Merrill after twenty years has renewed its charter. The management took advantage of this occasion to reorganize and rename the bank, as the Citizens

Park Falls—

Park Falls is one of the few places in this country where a man of Chinese parentage can vote. On election day, Charles Poy, the local laundry man, came to the polls and wanted to vote and when asked if he were a citizen he answered yes, and immediately produced the papers to back his statement.

Antigo—

George Miller of Dubno, Russia, and Jos. Spusta of Chicago were in the city this week in consultation with Benishak & Rynders with the intention of founding another Bohemian colony in Langlade county. They will probably purchase a tract of some four thousand or five thousand acres of land and a number of families will be brought over from Russia to settle on it. Mr. Miller is quite well to do, but dislikes the Russian government and is desirous of getting started in America. He will probably purchase a tract of a thousand acres for his own use. He was very favorably impressed with the country around here and it is quite likely that the project will go through.

Iron River—

W. H. Clubine, general manager of the Iron River Lumber Company, and Edward Hines, who controls large timber interests in this district, are developing a 2,200 acre farm which will support one of the largest dairy herds in the northwest. The Twin Bear farm had 115 acres under cultivation last year and 300 acres more will be tilled this season.

BURROWES COURSE OF MUSIC STUDY

This important branch of musical instruction has been thoroughly studied by Mrs. Jessie Hampton who has secured teaching privileges from Miss Katharine Burrowes of Detroit, Michigan, the inventor of "THE BURROWES COURSE OF MUSIC STUDY."

This method breaks down all the difficulties of elementary study; eliminates all its dullness and drudgery, and makes the lesson a pleasure to the teacher, and a delightful recreation to the pupils.

Mrs. Hampton's experience with child pupils, combined with this very attractive system, assures a degree of success which has hitherto been unattainable.

Classes may be formed on or before May 1 at my residence.

Applications may be made to Mrs.

Wilson of no place in particular, has Jessie Hampton.

THE EFFECTIVE LAXATIVE

Tastes Like and is Eaten Like Candy

In our experience in the handling of drugs and medicines, we believe we have never had experience with any Remedy that gave such great satisfaction to our customers as do Rexall Orderlies. This Remedy is not like any other laxative or cathartic. It contains all the good features of other laxatives, but none of their faults.

Our own faith in Rexall Orderlies is so strong that we offer them to you with our own positive personal guarantee, that if they do not thoroughly satisfy you, you only need tell us and we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for them.

Therefore, in trying them upon our recommendation you take no risk whatever.

Rexall Orderlies taste like and are eaten like candy. They do not grip.

cause nausea, excessive looseness or any other annoyance. They act so easily that they may be taken at any time, day or night. They are particularly good for children, aged, or delicate persons. They are put up in convenient tablets in three sizes of packages. Prices, 10c., 25c., and 50c.

Remember, Rexall Remedies can be obtained in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. J. Reardon, Rhinelander, Wis.

DELICATE CHILDREN

Made Strong by Vinol

"I wish I could induce every mother who has a delicate, sickly child, to try your delicious cod liver iron tonic, Vinol."

"It restored our little daughter to health and strength after everything else had failed. It tastes so good she loved to take it—not a bit of cod liver oil taste."—Mrs. C. W. Stump, Canton, Ohio."

The reason Vinol is so successful in building up many, delicate, ailing children, is because it is a combination of the two most world-famed tonics—the medicinal body-building elements of cod liver oil aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of iron.

If we can induce you to try a bottle of Vinol as a body-builder and strength-creator for your child, and you do not find it is all we claim, we will return your money on demand.

IMPORT POTATOES

One Reason Why the Price of the Tuber Is So High

The importation of potatoes into the United States during the last week or two has called attention of the Bureau of Commerce and Labor to a condition which several eminent economists say should not be permitted to exist. This condition, as extraordinary as it is startling, is shown to be the fact that whereas the potato crop in the United States was the largest on record, prices have been highest and a genuine scarcity of the food has existed. In a recent article in the New York Journal of Commerce that paper called attention to the fact that in certain sections of New England last fall potatoes brought such low prices and transportation to markets was so expensive that farmers preferred to let the crop rot on the ground rather than run the risk of selling them at a loss.

In February 2,500,000 bushels of potatoes were imported into this country, and the importations for March when the figures are available will probably be double that amount. Of course, the tariff added to the transportation of articles of food from other countries is just that much more that the ultimate consumer must pay.

Retailers Get Huge Profits
That, as the Bureau of Commerce points out, is one of the reasons for the increase in the cost of living.

Greater Farm Efficiency

Better Crops by Better Fertilizing
By PROF A. R. WHITSON, Wisconsin College of Agriculture

Manure vs. Manure With Rock Phosphate on potatoes. The Use of Rock Phosphate in Addition to the Manure increased the yield 47 per Cent

The development of the use of fertilizers in the United States has increased at a very rapid rate within the last two or three decades. Their use in the eastern and southern states is extensive. Within this period, however, Wisconsin agriculture has gone largely in the direction of dairying and in this system of farming the fertility of the soil, as is well known, is more generally conserved than in systems where a large part of the product of the farm is sold in the form of vegetables or grain. For this reason, in part, the use of commercial fertilizers in this state has been very limited. Moreover, the agricultural press of the state and the teaching of the Agricultural college has been opposed to the use of commercial fertilizers largely because the emphasis was placed on the advantages of dairying in the conservation of soil fertility. The time has come, however, when it is not profitable for farmers of the state to longer overlook the advantages which may come from the proper use of commercial fertilizers. There is much land in the state not adapted to dairying, such as large areas of sandy and marsh soil, and some sections of clay loam where the topography is so rough that the necessary amount of corn for silage cannot be grown to advantage. On lands of this class, other products must be grown for the market and it is in the growing of such crops as cabbage, potatoes, sugar beets, peas and corn for canning purposes, and other special crops that the use of commercial fertilizers is needed.

The large yields of practically all farm crops produced in such European countries as England, Germany and France, are frequently mentioned in agricultural papers as an evidence of the possibilities of intensive cultivation. By far the most important factor making possible such increases is the use of commercial fertilizers. It would be a difficult matter to find a farm of any importance in any of these countries on which a considerable amount of commercial fertilizers is not used. Nearly one-half of the immense output of our own phosphate mines is shipped abroad and in addition to that, enormous quantities of phosphate are mined in Europe and produced in the form of Thomas slag in the reduction of British iron ore which runs high in that element. Germany possesses practically the world's supply of potash fertilizer and this is drawn on heavily by that and adjacent countries. In addition to this, the growth of green manuring crops, practically always of the legume family, adds to the nitrogen supply, although enormous quantities of special nitrogen fertilizers are also used.

Without desiring in the least to underestimate the importance of dairy or other stock farming in its effect on the fertility of the soil, we feel that we can no longer afford to neglect the use of commercial fertilizers where they are called for.

Contrary to a rather common opinion, the kind of commercial fertilizers called for depends more on the character of the soil to be treated than on the crops to be grown. The amount to be used will depend to some extent on the kind of crop grown since some crops remove much larger quantities of the mineral elements from the soil than do others, but the particular kind of fertilizer needed is determined almost exclusively by the character of the soil. Much can be learned regarding the feeding of crops from experience gained in the feeding of animals. Just as it is well known that a certain balance among the ingredients of feed for stock should be maintained, so should there be a balance in the different elements of fertility available to growing crops. When crops are to be grown on marsh land which is extremely high in nitrogen but just as extremely low in phosphorus, and often in potash, these deficiencies must be made good in some way. Sandy soils, on account of their coarse texture and generally low content of all the essential elements, must frequently be supplied with practically all the essential elements for plant growth. The nitrogen may be added either directly in artificial fertilizers or indirectly through the growth of leguminous plants which have the power of fixing that element from the atmosphere. The nitrogen can be gathered in this way much more cheaply than it can be purchased and moreover, when added in the form of vegetable matter it decomposes and becomes available to growing crops slowly so that there is little danger of its loss by leaching from the soil while nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia are extremely soluble and

These are recommended to the farmer under trade names such as Tobacco Special, Potato Special, Corn Special, etc., thus implying that they have some particular advantage for those particular crops. As previously stated, this is not the case and the farmer is usually obliged to buy in such mixed fertilizers elements which he does not need and is often obliged to pay higher prices for those he does want than if he were to buy them in a pure form. Buying a fertilizer containing a single element is to be recommended. It will occasionally be desirable to mix phosphate and potash fertilizers, but this can be done on the farm to good advantage.

John Wild of Rhinelander was at Bradley and among the farmers north of Bradley, Tuesday, trying to organize a farmers' grange. He arranged for a meeting at the Prairie Lake school house next Monday evening and one at Malow's hall Tuesday evening. It is to be hoped the farmers will all turn out and learn something to their interest.

Those two old time favorites, Bel and Lyle, will again be seen in Rhinelander at the Elks' minstrels, Friday night. They will appear in their "Mutt and Jeff" sketch and do other funny stunts that will make it almost impossible to haul a load you go home laughing. In the by gone days here no home talent line is kept in running order.

The people from the north of Bradley are very indignant about the condition of the hill at the Little Rice. Do other funny stunts that will make it almost impossible to haul a load you go home laughing. In the over the grade and if this is a sample of the way the Wisconsin Immigration was complete without these people from the north of Bradley are going to leave the two entertainers. Although both are roads where they have changed them getting old they still feel able to do there should be some means to compel them to fight matters. We do not and will be one of the big cards on know where the blame belongs but we do know that it is an outrage that should be righted in some way. The bridge they put in is almost a complete wreck and do not think it safe to cross.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

Suffered Ten Years—Relieved in Three Months Thanks to PE-RU-NA.

A. K. Jillson of Menico was here Monday.

William Hutchinson was up from Menico Monday.

Miss McGinnis of Mercer was in the city, Tuesday.

John Cloren is at Milwaukee in attendance at the Consistory.

Chief of Police Straub is extorting his brother, Arthur Straub of Royalton.

John Small of Three Lakes was in the city this week receiving medical treatment.

The M. E. Ladies' Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Carl Kincaid, 610 Arbutus street, on Wednesday, May 1.

Wm. Carpenter of Sleepy Eye, Minn., was in the city today and purchased 160 acres of Oneida county land from C. Eby.

Jenny Lind Rock.

The Chippewa river claims among its treasures the Jenny Lind rock. The singer was a passenger on a steamer which struck a sandbar near the rock, and while waiting for the boat to be floated Miss Lind had boatmen row her out to the rock, where she stood alone and sang.

Live and Dye Together.

"What chums those two women seem to be," said he. "You see them together everywhere." "They are," said she. "They are so fond of each other they dilute their hair dye to exactly the same tint."

Day of the High Top Hat.

In a New York store there hangs a picture of Dom Pedro of Brazil receiving a delegation of citizens at Philadelphia on the day when he took part in the closing ceremonies of the Centennial exposition. Nearly all the men in the group wore high top hats.

A Chance to Get Even.

"There's one consoling feature about all this," chuckled the broad-shouldered individual who had just been turned away from the pearl gate. "Now I'll have a chance to meet those sons-of-guns who invented cigar bands, barbed-wire fences and wooden pillowsham holders."

The Way to Happiness.

To look fearlessly upon life; to accept the laws of nature, not with meek resignation, but as her sons, who dare to search and question; to have peace and confidence within our souls—these are the beliefs that make for happiness.—Matlerinck.

By Refracted Light.

"When is a person militant?" asks the ingenuous subscriber of Wharton. The Denver pastor who was thrown out of his church window by his board of deacons and came back and licked the entire push was militant.—Houston Post.

Incense Burning.

There are some men who expect the same incense from the world as they get from their wives—but then their wives get all the gowns and hats—and the public doesn't. Incense burning is a domestic and business combination.—Florida Times-Union.

Electrically Lighted Coffin.

A Vienna millionaire seems to have been totally in the dark as to his future state, for he willed that both the interior of his coffin and the vault in which it would lie should be illuminated by electricity.

Sea and Land Miles.

In considering the speed of a steamship it must be remembered that a knot or nautical mile, is a very different thing from a land mile. A mile is 6,800 feet, while a knot is 6,080 feet and a fraction.

T. L. Moody,

411-23 Rhinelander, Wis.

A. W. Brown returned the first of the week from the Pacific coast where he looked after his timber interests. Mr. Brown said that business conditions in that country are not as good as they might be.

The condition of Mrs. Mary Taggart is now such as to cause alarm among her family and friends and it is feared that the end is near. Mrs. Taggart has been seriously ill for several weeks.

For SALE—Small farm of 25 acres, 6 room house, small barn, cow and horse, chickens and all farm tools to go with it. Located in town of Pine Lake, about 3 miles from postoffice.
